

Optical power meter Anritsu ML9002A

The ML9002A is a compact handy power meter with a measurement level as wide as other more expensive instruments. Seven optical sensors are available for different wavelengths, measurement levels, and optical input types. Each can be calibrated for three common wavelengths so absolute optical power can be read directly. Each optical sensor can either be incorporated directly in the main frame or connected using a connecting cord.

<http://www.anritsu.com/en-US/Products-Solutions/Products/ML9002A.aspx>